STEWART GOVERNMENT CANDIDATE

To the Electors Rocky Mountain:

I have been unanimously chosen as Candidate and Standard-bearer of the Stewart Government in the forthcoming Provincial Elections of July 18th, and I feel that I should submit to you, for your approval, or otherwise, the policies which I shall adhere to while your representative in the Provincial Legislature.

You will understand, however, that problems of government must be dealt with from time to time which require the immediate decision and judgment of your representative without reference to, or consultation with, the elector who represents. With regard to these I can only promise to exercise my best judgment, and assure you that my judgment in such cases will be exercised in the best interests of the constituency, as I see them, regardless of party or sectional considerations. And in any case where consultation with, or reference to, my constituents is possible, I shall take every opportunity of obtaining assistance and advice.

The following statement of my position is not complete, owing to the limited time of my candidacy and the consequent lack of opportunity on my part of placing my position fully before you, but I shall at any time before and after July 18th be glad to advise you as to where I stand on any Provincial matter.

To present writing, at least, my opponents in this contest have not seen fit to do likewise.

On the different Provincial matters which I have had time to consider; my position is as follows:

1. I stand for the full and complete enforcement of all laws of the Province of Alberta, including the Liquor Act.
2. I stand for a free-handed and impartial labor commission, to be independent of all influence between employer and employee within the Province with particular reference to miners and the conditions of labor in this district.
3. I stand for the establishment of mine rescue stations with adequate equipment at or near the entrance of every mine.
4. I stand for the elimination of all causes of accident death of employees in the mining and all other industries.
5. I stand for the construction of a road connecting the constituency of Rocky Mountain with the Crowsnest Pass, to facilitate the Department of Public Works of the Province to:

(a) Re-open a new road through the Frank Slide;

(b) To plan and keep in proper repair all important roads in the constituency;

(c) To adjust the alignment of all bridges and keep them in proper state of repair;

(d) To open and keep in a proper state of repair all roads necessary for the convenience of my constituents.

(e) Generally to furnish the Crowsnest Pass and the Banff district with proper roads and facilities.

5. I stand for the adoption as soon as practicable of a system of pensions to widows, workers incapacitated by age or otherwise, and other needy persons within the Province, on a fair and equitable basis.

6. I stand for the establishment of a judicial or sub-judicial centre in the Crowsnest Pass in order that needless cost and delay of litigation may be avoided.

7. I stand for the immediate construction of a provincial public building at the most convenient point in the Crowsnest Pass for Police and Court purposes.

I stand for the division of the Rocky Mountain Constituency in order that the North and South portions thereof may have individual representation in the legislature of the Province.

9. I stand for the absolute control by the Province of Alberta over its natural resources.

10. I stand for the extension and enlargement of the benefits of the Workmen's Compensation, Factories, and other ameliorating Acts relating to labor and industry throughout the Province.

11. I stand for fair and adequate wages for workers as well in private industry as in Government contracts.

12. I stand for every possible extension of the market for Alberta coal, and in particular for reduction of freight rates to make such extension possible.

13. I stand for the establishment of central technical high schools both in the north and south of the constituency.

I realize that I have not replied to every possible question which may be put to me in the present campaign, but the reason is obvious, and I would only intimated, I shall be glad an opportunity presents itself to discuss myself on any other matter which may now engage your attention.

I shall, therefore, leave the matter of my election in your hands, with every assurance of my faithful service, if elected your representative in the Provincial legislature.

Very sincerely yours,

ALEX. M. MORRISON.

PAINS SO BAD STAYED IN BED

Young Mrs. Beecroft Had Miserable Time Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Hamilton, Ont.—"I have suffered for three years from a female trouble and consequent weakness and debility which kept me bed fast for four days each month. I nearly went crazy with pain in my back, and for about a week at a time I could not do any work."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the Hamilton Spectator and I took it. Now I have no pain and am quite regular under its influence. I feel fine every morning until late at night. I keep house and do all my own work without any trouble. I have recommended the medicine to many women."

Mental Process

May Prolong Life

How to Live 100 Years is Explained By Psychologist.

"Your mind may prolong your years. Psychology and not medicine is the secret of longevity." This statement was made by Dr. Arthur Gates, head of the New York psychology department of the teachers' college. Dr. Gates explained:

"Given proper conditions, such as lack of predisposition to organic weakness and susceptibility to disease, mental processes may prolong life greatly beyond the average span I believe we might become a nation of centenarians without difficulty."

"Here are the laws for insuring this enjoyment: You must cultivate character; you must seek knowledge; you must forget the name of fear; live upon a mighty height above grief, melancholy and sadness—emotions twined and human ties; cut out worry—vampire of the spirit."

Biography of Prince of Wales

Many Experiences Related In Book Just Published.

The birthday anniversary of the Prince of Wales was made the occasion for the publication of an authentic biography—"by his lady." The author is Miss G. I. Y. Sanderford, and however authentic it may be, the book is full of all sorts of stories about the Prince's experiences such as those which made New York say of him "Ain't he a nice kid?"

Quoting the Prince himself concerning his New York visit, Miss Sanders writes:

"They called me a real mixer. They got tired of calling me 'Sir' and called me Prince." They called me 'Prince' until every time they said it I felt I would have to bark and wag my tail."

Going back to his childhood the book tells how the little Prince rushed from his nursery in York House one day to find an outfitter there with a new suit which he wanted very much.

"Come, right in," the Princeling called. "There is no one here that matters much, only grandpa."

The book also tells of the coronation procession when the Prince made his younger brother get under the seat so as to make more room in the carriage. Incidents of real personal bravery during the war are given, as well as an account of his trips to the United States and the Dominions.

Why Should the United Farmers of Alberta OPPOSE THE STEWART Government?

Premier Stewart is one of the best farmers in the province.

The Provincial government has enacted more legislation in the interests of the farmers than any other government in Canada.

The platform of the U. F. A. is almost identically the platform of the Stewart government.

All classes and sections have received the utmost consideration at all times from Premier Stewart and his cabinet.

The government has been progressive and business-like.

Critical times are ahead, and the government is prepared to cope with these problems in an experienced and careful manner.

Why, Then, Should Premier Stewart Be Opposed?

Remember what Hon. T. A. Crerar, national leader of the organized farmers, had to say when he addressed the U. F. A. convention in Edmonton, January 20th, 1921, as reported in the press.

"Mr. Crerar pointed out that the business of the government, he cared not whether it was a municipality, a province, or in a wider federal field, was a business that should engage the attention of every honest citizen, no matter what his calling or occupation might be, and consequently that being the case, he for one, was willing to take common stand with the other man, whatever his profession might be, so long as he believed in politics that he, the speaker, believed in, and who was willing to work with him for those ends."

"That does not mean that the position of your organization, or of any farmers' organization, is challenged," said Mr. Crerar. "It would be a thousand sins if that were to do anything in Canada today that would destroy the integrity and effectiveness of the farmers' organization. Your U. F. A., as you all know, has insisted on the recognition of the importance of its experience and life as a farmer's organization, built up as such, but let me say this: when you get into the wider field where you are dealing with matters of vital importance to all the people of the country, do not refuse the support and assistance of the man who is willing to work with you toward that end. You will fail in your final purpose if your motive is to seek power alone for the sake of power. It would be a fatal mistake if we became animated with the desire to acquire power in government merely for the sake of having it."

In order to provide the paper for only one issue of a big daily newspaper fifty acres of forest must be cleared of its trees. Great Britain alone uses something like five million tons of paper every year. This sounds—and is a lot; but it is small in comparison with the United States whose average consumption is nearly forty million tons per annum. Canada and Newfoundland supply much of the timber consumed in the paper mills. Russia used to sell large quantities, but this source of supply is now cut off.

TRAVEL TO THE UNITED STATES

So many cases of confusion arise as to the Border requirements that the Canadian government has thought best to issue a statement covering the leading provisions governing admission to the United States. (1) Citizens of Canada and British Subjects domiciled therein (but not merely passing through in transit) are not required to present passports, identity cards, permits or similar documents on entering the United States directly from Canada. (2) Aliens of any nationality, who are regularly domiciled in the United States, may have passed into Canada and return directly thereto from the United States within six months of their departure also receive no passport. (3) With certain exceptions all others not citizens of the United States require visas, passports to enable them to enter the United States. There may be said that those who should be deported from their governments embrace two classes; (a) Aliens not of British nationality, whether domiciled in Canada or elsewhere, passed through the Dominion in transit, and (b) British Subjects who are merely passing in transit. Such persons are required to present a visa on a passport which must be countersigned by an American Consular officer before presentation at the Border. Those who are not citizens of the United States should first communicate with the American Consul of the district wherein they reside. In this connection it should be noted that Fernie Consular district includes the following territory: (1) All of Kootenay; (2) a strip of Alberta from the Crowsnest Pass east as far as Pincher Creek; and (3) Saskatchewan as far west as Carmi and Bridleveil.

THE SHORT SKIRT CRAZE

Ministers and Laymen Have Penned Darts at Attenuated Frocks.

To the Editor of The Spokane Review: The Rev. Dr. John Stanton, of Calvary Baptist church, New York, has evidently an observant eye.

"Many a skirt is short these days. The latest style is doubtless But every time she got inside, She was more than half way out." But there is nothing new under the sun. Helen of Troy and queen of Sheba were similarly fired.

In my own youth the ditty ran: "Come along, my attenuated frocks; It leaves off early, doesn't it?"

But then you see my love, It starts late up above, So that when she comes along, she doesn't fit."

If another noted divine, defunct yet deathless, the Rev. Dr. Watt, were alive he would doubtless put it as follows: "Helen of Troy, whenever I take my walk abroad, What drives of calves I see, Yet 'tis not 'meet' that I should

At what's re-valued to me."

THE SOCIAL SERVICE COUNCIL OF ALBERTA

Edmonton, Alta., July 4, 1921
Dear Friend:

The friends of prohibition are the official friends of the Social Service Council of Alberta.

We herewith submit to you a matter that, in our opinion, is of first rank importance.

It is a recognized fact that the ultimate solution of every problem is a moral solution. Has not the experience of man taught us that? Claiming this from the house tops? This means that personality is the secret of success or failure. We all see this in the home, the church and the state. Are we willing to see this in the legislature?

We are facing another Provincial election. If the legislators in this province are to have strong moral qualities this can only be when we elect persons of strong moral character who will prove that stamp upon the people of this province have said by large majorities that they want the complete prohibition of the liquor traffic for human purposes. We are not of those people carried out or is the Moderation League to rule this province? The answer to this depends entirely upon the voters in the coming election.

WHATEVER YOUR PARTY AFFILIATIONS MAY BE, we may not urge upon you to see that persons of strong moral qualities can be elected. It depends upon to carry out the will of the people for complete prohibition and who possess the necessary qualifications to act as legislators are put in nomination for this office.

May we ask you as one of our allies to lose no time in this matter as we have got to be here before the legislative interests are busy.

By giving the voters an opportunity to choose between persons of the above type we believe that the best interests of this province will be served.

On behalf of the executive of the Social Service Council,

W. G. BROWN, President
H. E. HULL, General Secretary

Please let me know when further information on this matter communicate with the General Secretary's Office, 714 Tegler Building, Edmonton.

Following is the proposition advanced to our candidates:

As you are announced as a candidate for the Provincial Legislature I trust you will take up this question. If elected, we would appreciate, at your earliest convenience, an answer to the following questions:

Are you in favor of the complete prohibition of the liquor traffic for beverage purposes in this Province as expressed by the vote of the electors of the electors in the two previous elections? If so, and if elected, do you promise to give your entire support to the securing of this end?

1. Liberal interests desire to take a referendum in this province on the question of Government Control of the sale of liquor for beverage purposes. Will you support or compelling them to present a petition from the electors of this province according to the requirements of the Referendum Act? Alberta has the privilege of taking such referendum will be granted by the Legislature, and if elected do you promise your

BENEFICIAL EFFECTS OF SCHOOL FAIRS

School fairs are to the boys and girls of the laundry and the laundry is to the adults. In this time they should be thoroughly organized; prize lists published and circulated and programmes of the proceedings publication. These fairs increase in number every year and are proving of inestimable value in the agricultural education of the young people, even in beneficially influencing the more mature. Of course boys' and girls' clubs are the principal leaders of the fair and entries are usually accepted from clubs who are active members of any such organization. Agricultural representatives all tell the splendor of the fair, the fair have a great future and agricultural pursuits generally.

Say Something Good

Pick out the folks you like the least and "watch 'em for a while." They never waste a kindly word, they never waste a smile; They criticize their fellowmen at every chance they get. They never found a human just to suit their fancy yet; From them I guess you'd learn some things, if they were pointed out. Some things that every one of us should know a lot about. When someone "knocks" a brother, pass around the loving cup, Say something good about him if you have to make it up.

It's safe to say that every man God made holds truce of good.

That he would find exhibit to his follow if he could;

The kindly deeds in many a soul are liberating there,

Awating the encouragement of other souls that dare.

To show the best that's in them, and a universal move.

Would start the whole world moving in a hopeful, helpful groove.

Say something sweet to paralyze the "knocked" on the spot,

Speak kindly of his victim, if you know the man or not.

The eyes that peer and peer to find the worst a brother holds;

The tongue that speaks in bitterness that feels and fumes and scolds;

The hands that bruise the fallen, though their strength was made to raise

The weaklings who have stumbled at the parting of the ways;

All these should be forgiven, for "they know not what they do,"

Their hindrance makes a greater work for wiser ones like you;

So, when they scourge a wretched one who's drained sin's bitter cup,

Say something good about him, if you have to make it up.

Record of Stewart Government Is One of Inspiring Achievement

Even A. F. Ewing, Leader of one faction of the Opposition has no serious criticism to make of Administration's Record

IN the manifesto recently issued by Mr. Ewing, the main burden of his criticism is "the staggering debt of the province." The manifesto is FULL OF GLARING INACCURACIES. He places the indebtedness of the province, for instance, at sixty-three million dollars. That is not true, and in making that statement Mr. Ewing not only attempts to destroy the financial standing of the province, but also impugns the character of all Canadian and U.S. Bond Houses who have purchased Alberta Bonds. It is a well-known fact that no bond house will purchase provincial bonds without first investigating the financial condition of the province, and experts are always called in for that purpose. Their official finding is incorporated in the prospectus, issued when the bonds are placed on the market. Such a prospectus, issued on December 31st, 1920, placed the debt of Alberta as $41,989,900, less a sinking fund account of $1,231,159, and telephone utility indebtedness amounting to $15,834,394.90, making a net debt of $24,924,345.90.

Mr. Ewing does not know, although he ought to know, that no municipality in the Dominion does include, or is expected to include, utility bonds in any statement of its net debt. Mr. Ewing also includes university bonds and other guaranteed bonds in his statement of the general debt, whereas they are but an indirect obligation, and are fully covered by assets and mortgages, altogether separate and distinct from the assets belonging to the province.

Mr. Ewing speaks of the indebtedness of the province as if the money were thrown away, never to return, with not a cent to show for it. He reminds one of an amateur accountant, puzzling his brains to discover the story that the books really tell and finally making a haphazard guess at it. If he cared to do so, he could find out that represented in the indebtedness of the province are directly reproductive undertakings, such as the telephone system, which is a wonderful asset, and could readily be disposed of for twice what is cost the province.

And then, included in the indebtedness are revenue producing investments amounting to about seven million dollars. The province is drawing interest on these investments, and the principal is secured. Nearly eighteen million dollars are represented in indirectly productive works, all of which can be properly included as assets of the province.

VALUABLE ASSETS OF THE PROVINCE

Mr. Ewing referred in his manifesto to the public debt. He did not refer to a single asset. He did not say that the assets of the province are of the most valuable kind and that the province has something to show for every dollar expended. Mr. Ewing knows well that the province of Alberta cannot be developed without borrowing and expenditure of money. He knows that all money thus far borrowed has been expended wisely and with due regard to the public interest, and that the government policy in this respect has resulted in a development that is little short of amazing.

Mr. Ewing is just as glaringly inaccurate when he speaks of the Supplementary Revenue Tax as being "first introduced under the name of the Patriotic Tax Act." That also is not true. The Patriotic Tax Act was introduced solely for the benefit of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, and not one cent of it was diverted to the general revenue of the province. The Supplementary Tax Act of 1918 was an independent measure entirely, and contained no reference to "patriotic requirements." It constituted the first general tax on the people of the province as a whole, and is the only direct tax in existence. It is a very light charge on land values.

Mr. Ewing's "manifesto" is really a compliment to the government. He makes no reference to, and has no criticism to make of the great volume of legislation placed on the statute books by the Liberal administrations of Alberta since 1905, culminating in the splendid measures for which the Stewart government has been responsible.

There is not a word in Mr. Ewing's manifesto about the outstanding Educational Policy of the government, by which Alberta set the pace for advanced educational systems elsewhere. Not a word about the policy of equal opportunity for all school children throughout the province. Not a word about the fact that Alberta's 4,300 schools are now operating one hundred percent strong, with only 230 permit teachers in the whole of the province. Not a word about the government's policy of raising the standard of teacher training, or the practice to lend, particularly to rural teachers, government funds up to $400 in each case, repayable over a period of two years after graduation, thus leading to more competent teachers and a largely increased teacher supply. Not a word about the policy ensuring continuous operation of rural schools, and more contented rural teachers, by paying one-third of the cost of building and furnishing teachers' residences. Not a word about the policy of allowing children in the rural schools to write their high school entrance examinations at their own schools, instead of compelling them to go to the towns and cities for that purpose, at great expense. Not a word about the policy of carrying high school education to the rural districts. Not a word about the government's solution of the problem of over-crowded rural schools, and the present practice of voting three times the usual grant to two-room schools. Not a word, in short, about the government's policy of equal educational opportunity for all school children in the province, and the distribution as evenly as possible of the cost of education. Not a word about the government's slogan of school facilities for every child and every child at school!

MR. EWING'S CURIOUS SILENCE

Take the government's legislation for women and children. Not a word from Mr. Ewing on the subject! Surely if he had any criticism to make, he would have said so in his manifesto! Mrs. H. M. Edwards, of Macleod, president of the provincial Council of Women, in the preface of her book on "The Legal Status of Women of Alberta," says:—

"The women of Alberta are more favored in regard to legal status than any other province in Canada. The government's appreciation of the work of women in standing shoulder to shoulder with the men folk in the development of their country has been shown by giving them the premier place in the Dominion. Alberta was the first province in Canada to call women to a legislative assembly, the first to ask a woman to accept a judge's seat in the courts of justice, and the first to hand her aldermanic honors. Alberta was the first province to grant equal provincial and municipal suffrage regardless of sex distinction: the first to grant absolute equal parental rights, not only as co-guardian, but giving the mother in 1920 every right in her child that had been exclusively held by the father, even to sharing with the father his rights in the intestate estate of the son or daughter."

There are other laws affecting women, such as the Dower act of 1917, by which the property is reserved to the wife not only during the lifetime of the husband, but after his death and during her lifetime. Then there is the Exemption from Seizures Ordinance of 1915, which protects the family homeestead from seizure under execution, and gives adequate protection to every home. A wife is also now entitled by common law to all rents and profits from her own real estate, the title resting with the husband. A form of widow's pension is provided by the Mother's Allowance Act, whereby the government pays every mother requiring assistance a sum sufficient to enable her to raise and educate her family, half the cost being borne by the government, and the other half by the municipality in which she resides. The Married Women's Relief Act protects a widow's interest in her husband's estate, notwithstanding provisions of a will to the contrary, the question of her right being left for a Supreme court judge to decide.

Mr. Ewing in his manifesto says not a word about all this beneficial legislation on behalf of women and children. He apparently has no criticism to make, and is not willing to give credit where credit is due.

GOVERNMENT'S SPLENDID RECORD

In the same way, Mr. Ewing is silent about the splendid policy of the government on behalf of agriculture and kindred interests. He has not a word to say about the way the government during crop failures in certain districts during the years 1918, 1919, 1920, came to the assistance of the farmers to the tune of $1,200,000. Not a word about the Cooperative Credit Act, by which fifteen or more farmers may organize themselves into a mutual credit society and secure short-term loans from banks at the lowest possible rate of interest, the government standing behind these societies with a full guarantee of borrowing. Not a word about the six splendid agricultural schools of the province, known from one end of the Dominion to the other, or of the College of Agriculture at the University, providing higher channels of study for the graduates of these schools. Not a word about the famous "Cow Bill," by which settlers in newer districts are able to secure cattle under government loans. Not a word about the Farm Machinery Act, by which farmers are protected from the unscrupulous machinery and other contracts. Not a word about the Hon. Duncan Marshall's splendid fight for the removal of the embargo, or about the large number of acts not mentioned above for the encouragement and protection of Alberta's basic industries.

Mr. Ewing is also curiously silent about the government's policy of providing means for getting in and out of the rural districts; of its appropriation this year of two and one-quarter millions for roads, bridges and ferries, making a total appropriation in five years for that purpose of six 6½ millions. Not a word from Mr. Ewing about the government's magnificent irrigation policy, although people of all shades of political thought throughout the province have praised the government for its action in this respect.

Not a word from Mr. Ewing about the government's policy of obtaining wider markets for Alberta coal—a policy that has resulted in increasing the annual output of coal in the last two years from 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 tons. Not a word about the government's benevolent labor legislation, or of the plan to create a department of labor at the next session, with a deputy-minister in charge.

The electors of the province can form only one conclusion from Mr. Ewing's studied silence on all these subjects, and that is that he has no criticism to make of the general record of the government. That being the case, there is only one thing to do—

Waste and Its Effect On Prices

One of the most important problems confronting the people in nearly all countries is how to bring down the cost of production to figures more nearly approximating those which prevailed prior to the war. It is likewise the most difficult problem to solve without creating conditions which would be even more disastrous than the present handicap imposed upon all productive enterprise.

The war created conditions which resulted in a rapid and phenomenal rise in the cost of all raw materials and labor; in fact, of everything entering into the production of goods and articles of every description. The inevitable result was an enormous increase in prices, and while war's demands kept up production to top-notch capacity, with the ending of the war and the re-stocking of the world's supply of necessities, there has come a falling off in demand and consequently, in production, because people cannot pay the prices which present costs of production make it imperative to charge. The result is unemployment, and the greater the number of unemployed the lower falls the purchasing power of the country. There must, therefore, be a decrease in the costs of production before there can be any marked improvement in the volume of business and of employment.

It is clear, therefore, that there must be a further adjustment. Prices of raw materials have fallen, but the cost of labor necessary to convert these materials for use continues so high, and the cost of transporting both raw materials and the finished products which is not the activity in evidence, which the economic needs of the community and all people demands. And labor very naturally insists that it cannot work for a materially reduced wage until there is a reduction in the costs of living.

There is one field, however, in which labor can do much to remedy the present situation and reduce costs of production without being obliged to accept lower wages, and the action which labor should take in the interests of all will not operate to further decrease employment but, on the contrary, the effect must be to increase employment. The action which labor should take is to remove the many restrictions which are arbitrarily imposed by their union regulations and which operate to increase costs of production out of all proportion to the actual work involved in production.

Reference was recently made in this column to the waste of time, labor and money involved in the insistence by printers that type set up for one purpose, say an advertisement in a newspaper, must not be used for another purpose, as, for example, in a piece of job printing, but that the same master must be set up twice. This is pure waste, but the printers insist upon it under the mistaken idea that they are thereby creating more employment. As a matter of fact by unnecessarily increasing costs they are actually curtailing employment.

One of the most serious handicaps to business today is the excessively high railway freight rates. These unduly high charges are affecting every line of business and production. These high rates were partly brought about during the war by the high cost of raw materials, but these costs are now substantially lower. Wages, however, are still high. But the most serious item in costs of railway operation are the new regulations imposed by the railway unions which force the employment of three, four and five men to do a piece of work which one man, or a man and a helper, can do just as well and even more expeditiously. The labor of the others is pure waste, for which the public is compelled to pay, and which necessitates excessive freight and passenger rates in order to pay for this waste.

Toll is taken on every bushel of grain raised, every head of livestock shipped, every load of lumber or coal, every item of merchandise handled, to pay for this waste. Nobody escapes from paying for a share of this waste. The railway employee who fancies he is profiting from enforcing these economically unsound regulations pays just as do other railway employees, union labor everywhere, and the people generally who know they do not benefit in any degree from having men employed in the doing of unnecessary and totally unproductive work.

Dean Swift, in one of his famous satires, makes the King of Brobbingsnail express the opinion that whoever could make two ears of corn, or two blades of grass to grow upon a spot of ground where only one grew before, deserved better of mankind and did more essential service to his country than the whole race of politicians put together. Unfortunately for the present age, organized labor seems to have become permeated with the idea that the wise, proper and statesmanlike course is for a man to produce only one-half or one-third as much as he is easily capable of producing, and to insist that several men should be employed to do what would be only a reasonable day's work for one.

In next week's article some recent disclosures resulting from an official inquiry will be cited as indicating the direction in which reform must come in order to right, or at all events improve, existing economic conditions in this and other countries.

Canadian Seeds Sell in France

Big Market in France for Manitoba Marquis Wheat.

A big market in France for seeds, especially for Manitoba Marquis wheat, peas, Canadian blue grass and clover, is reported by the Canadian trade commissioner at Paris in the trade and commerce bulletin. The market is adversely affected by the rate of exchange, but with improvement in this respect, opportunity for trade in seeds will greatly increase. French buyers who are very particular, declare themselves very well satisfied with the quality of Canadian cereal products. Since early in the war the French Government has done all the buying, but this control will be removed August 1.

Fish Eggs Carried From Hatcheries To Inaccessible Points.

A new use for the seaplane has been found on the Pacific coast by officials of the department of marine and fisheries working in co-operation with the air board officials at the Vancouver seaplane station. It is in carrying fish eggs from the hatcheries to otherwise inaccessible points of the coast line, where eggs can be placed under water in special boxes invented by one of the fishery officers and allowed to complete hatching there. Pilots are also being undertaken, in connection with the fisheries department officials to circumvent fish poachers who stray into forbidden waters.

"Your Teeth"

By Rea Proctor McGee, M.D.,
D.D.S., Editor of Oral Hygiene.

CONCERNING WOMEN

Copyright, 1921, by Rea Proctor McGee.

How beautiful would the most beautiful woman be if her teeth were all decayed and a few out here and there?

Wouldn't that "queer" her chances in the beauty show? In addition, how long would she keep her beautiful complexion? And if her complexion was gone how could she get by with a "drug store" complexion if her cheeks were all swollen in?

And then where would her happy disposition behead her digestion? All this and when she has these things gone for a woman, old age is here, regardless of the number of years she has lived.

American women retain their beauty and their vivacity longer than any other women in the world, actually retain their youth more years than the women of any nation or of any time in history, all because the American dentist and American dentistry have preserved her teeth and her mouth.

Women's teeth are more subject to decay than men's. Nearly three-fourths of the twelve million people who go to the dentist regularly in the United States every year are girls and women.

The cheeks and lips get their support from the teeth and gums. Irregular teeth in children, particularly little girls should be corrected early not only for the proper occlusion, or biting, of the teeth, but because the contour and expression of the face from the cheek bones down depend upon the teeth. Would you rather have a smile from a row of stumps surrounded by ugly, red, swollen, and misaligned gums or a smile taken yours from a lovely row of human teeth, regular and beautiful in shape, supporting the most gracefully curved lips, and surrounded by gums that radiate health and whose delicate pink is more perfect than the petal of a rose?

Health gives more beauty than colour. Many an otherwise unattractive face is brought high above the average by a clean, healthy, well-kept mouth.

An Irishman visiting a friend in hospital began to take an interest in the other patients.

"I've got tonsils, and I've got to have my tonsils removed," was the answer.

"And you?" he asked another.

"I've got blood-poisoning in the arm, and they're going to cut it off," was the reply.

"Holy Moses," said Pat in horror. "This is no place for me. I've got a cold in my head!"

The Prince's Hat.

King Edward set many fashions in England, Europe and the Prince of Wales seems to be following in his footsteps, in that respect. Reports from the centres of the English hating industry indicate the possibility of an early revival of trade. This change is credited to the Prince of Wales, who, in his Australian tour, wore a new style of hat which suited him to perfection. It was a soft smooth felt of light gray shade, with a black band.

Edmonton Woman Now Eats Better and Feels Better Than In Years

"It certainly is wonderful how quickly the right medicine will get a person feeling well again," said Mrs. Edward Fuller, 12436 122nd St., Edmonton, Alberta.

"When I began taking Tanlac I was so weak and run-down I could hardly hold out through the day. Nothing I ate tasted good to me and I just had to force myself to eat enough to keep alive. I had a headache every day and was restless and nervous and slept so poorly that I was worn out and listless when morning came.

"Inside of a month, Tanlac had me feeling like an entirely different person and I am now eating, sleeping and feeling better than I have in years. My headaches and nervousness soon disappeared and my housework, which had been a drudgery before, actually became a pleasure.

"In my opinion there never was a medicine made that is the equal of Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Brick Making Old Art

Roman Used Them in England in Year 44 A.D.

The Bible tells us of the manufacture and use of bricks. The most ancient records contain references to this building material, and we know as early as the year 44 A.D., the Romans used them in England. The actual scientific and mass production of bricks did not begin until 1886, when Alfred the Great directed that bricks be made for the construction of Winchester cathedral under his supervision. History does not tell of another ruler who became deeply interested in this industry until we came to Charles I, who, in 1625, thought it necessary to regulate the size of bricks, so that transportation difficulties could be overcome. An inventor in the United States by the name of Spence is credited with the first brick-making machine, but an Englishman, whose patent was granted in 1861, was the first to produce brick by steam at the rate of 1,500 an hour.

Animals and Music

Wolves and Elephants in Zoo Slept Through Performance.

A violinist recently gave a free performance to the inhabitants of the London Zoological Gardens, and the effect of his playing upon some of his audience was rather curious to observe, according to a correspondent. The serpents, lizards and scorpions seemed to be most appreciative of them all; some of them became quite agitated, while others hurried in the direction whence the sounds proceeded and listened attentively. The bears, sheep, boars, bisons and zebras all evinced keen interest in the performance. But the wolves, foxes and elephants slept the sleep of the dead. The monkeys were divided in their regard; some of them crept their necks with curiosity and listened with their hands behind their ears, while others chattered menacingly, or critically beat themselves away.

Freedom Of Trade Returning To Russia Through British Influence

London—At the annual meeting of the Russo-Asiatic Consolidated Company, considerable light was thrown upon the recent political and industrial developments in Russia.

Leslie Urquhart, chairman, declared it was no secret that the British trade agreement with the Soviet Government had a profoundly moderating influence on the soviet policy, and had been the compelling force at the Communists' congress in March, which induced the Soviet Government to issue a decree re-establishing the freedom of local trade.

Since the date of the decree, many small industries have been denationalized and returned to their owners, who are allowed to trade freely with their products. Forceful corn-requisition has given place to corn taxation. The law now permits open barter between peasants and townsmen and admits the principle of private gain.

Many extremists have been dismissed from the Soviet Government, to make room for moderate men, and others have in practice renounced their communistic ideas. Gradual elimination of economic restraints mark the beginning of the re-establishment of favorable conditions for capitalistic development in Russia.

British Fleet

Prepared For Turks

Mediterranean Squadrons Quo Malta When Situation Threatens at Turkish Capital.

Malta—Virtually the entire British Mediterranean fleet with all the attendant ships, including the aircraft vessel Pegasus, is enroute for or concentrated within easy reach of Constantinople, where the situation is viewed with some alarm, in view of expected attacks by Kemalist troops. It is said that British military reinforcements also are coming out from England immediately.

Never before has the harbor of Malta been so empty. Even the reserve ships here are destined for the east, and the vessels which recently sailed in that direction have carried large supplies of ammunition.

In view of these movements the commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean, Admiral de Robeck, who was expected here July 21, was not considered likely to come.

The only exceptions to the naval movement eastward are five vessels of the light cruiser squadron under Admiral Tyrwhitt, which are at Alexandria.

Gen. Smuts Is Hopeful For Peace In Ireland

After a Conference With De Valera Thinks That Problem Is Capable of Solution.

London—For the moment General Jan Christian Smuts, the South African premier, the outstanding figure in the hoped-for peace settlement in Ireland, General Smuts has returned from that country where he engaged in conference with Eamonn de Valera and other men of influence in the Irish situation and he declares his belief that the problem is capable of solution.

In his remarks at a dinner of the South African colony, Gen. Smuts, pleading for conciliation on the part of both sides, declared that a similar problem, equally difficult, had been solved in South Africa and that now South Africa was one of the happiest countries in the empire.

The Irish problem, said General Smuts, was one largely engaging the whole empire. It was a problem, however, on which he could not speak now, except to express the belief that it was soluble and that "if we all

Spanish Battery Driven From Position and Six Officers Killed.

Morocco—Large contingents of natives have attacked and occupied a position in Morocco which was defended by a Spanish battery and two companies of natives who had been enroute for service under the Spanish flag. The native contingents, numbering and killed six officers belonging to the force occupying the position. The native contingents afterwards attacked another position but were repelled after a sanguinary fight lasting 26 hours, during which they suffered heavy losses, including 100 killed, while the Spanish troops had three officers, including a major, and 30 wounded.

These events, which have been made known officially, have produced a bad impression, because the public had come to believe that there could be no more serious fighting in Morocco.

Economic Loss To Britain

Seventy Million Days Were Lost Over the Coal Strike.

London—Seventy million working days lost to the nation and £18,000,000 of extra expenditure incurred by the Government, are the official estimates computed in connection with the economic situation caused by the coal dispute.

The defense force army of reservists cost £70,000,000 and the railways claim £90,000,000 against the State for May alone.

The emptiness of the State coffers is demonstrated by the sum of money advanced to the House of Commons that a sound and unlimited estimate of treasury bonds at 97 and bearing interest at 5½ per cent is urgently needed to meet obligations maturing in the next few months.

Three hundred million pounds of debts has to be dealt with instead of the one hundred million originally budgeted for. The new bonds will run for eight years, thus giving time for a gigantic fund operation at a more reasonable opportunity.

I also speedily adopted the native dress which is infinitely the best for the north. A dark blue 3½ ell blanket capot, unlined, which came about halfway to the knee, and strange to say they were made without buttons but fastened with buckskin thongs and gartering. Then stout leggings coming halfway up the thigh, made loosely and aways with a fringe on the outside seam, white for every day and blue for festive occasions. These were always gartered firmly below the knee. The best belt of all, a leather belt with a buckle of buckskin thong which was girded above the hips and formed a great support and also made the costume much warmer. A huge pair of fur or moose skin mittens were always carried as a spare. These were fastened together by a thong long enough to go over the belt. Gloves or light mitts were used when running, but if caught in a storm or lost track the big ones were essential.

The first experience a tender foot has when running is to sweat violently, and here the ordinary wool sock is but of little use as it gets wet where you tread and is difficult and slow to dry. So I soon discarded them and adopted the oblong duffel or stroud square, which can be dried in a minute or two at any stop and there are four changes, one in each corner of it. I still kept the legs of each foot off the wool stockings and simply cut the foot off.

There is another most important part of a dog driver's equipment, and that is the whip. The ordinary hunting whip is as cute as a fox and quite often as wicked as a bear, so his respect for his driver is governed by the latter's ability to punish. A good whip is made of plaited deerkin thongs over a round heart, which is loaded with short tapering in size." Four, six or eight thongs are used according to taste. First-class whip makers were famous and found a ready sale for their whips practically at their own prices. The handle was of hawwood, sixteen to twenty inches long, and loaded at the head. This was useful as a weapon if the dogs attacked you. Well, I have described the whip to the best of my ability, but how to use it is quite another matter. What hours I spent in practising, and after some years did attain a certain measure of success, but was never a crack whip master.

It was a fearsome sight to see Johnny Beads when thoroughly exasperated by the conduct of his team, applying the whip. Upsetting his flat sleigh and placing his foot on the trace he would proceed to flog the culprit whose yell could be heard for miles, while his mates would join in for sympathy. At every stroke the hair would fly from the shoulders to the hips. The Russian Knout could not have been much worse. The whip, however, was not brutal, but a club was, and I have often interfered when the latter was used. Fortunately my own team were so willing and high-spirited that a whip was not necessary. Sired by a Scotch stag and their mother a husky, they all took after their sire in disposition, and were the only first-class team I was ever lucky enough to own. The whip, however, was always necessary at feeding time to protect your own team. Two whitefish was the day's meal for each dog and this was his breakfast, dinner and supper all in one, for as a rule dogs were never fed in the daytime; though with my fast travellers, especially when alone, I found a small quantity of dried or powdered meat very helpful in the middle of the day. These fish were carried frozen and were thawed at night before the camp fire. They are stuck through the tails by a stick called the spee, which was useful to carry them by. Feeding time arrives and the dogs consisting of two, three or four trains, have been watching the fish at the fire closely. You call your own name, all the men being a little deaf, and the dogs were delicate and did not bolt the fish two bits as Brandy would. Accordingly an attack would be made on my team by the other dogs every night, and at first I would yell for assistance, much to the amusement of the other drivers.

And so the days went on. Post after post was visited by the factor until we were homeward bound for Fort Ellis, making the last camp at Riding Mountain House with some sixty miles to go. The iron factor still kept me ahead and descending a hill, a branch caught my snow goggles and whirled them into space. No one could find them, so on we went, and consequently I was laid up for a day or two with a severe attack of snow blindness which is most painful. The native cure is to steam the eyes over strong black tea and poultice them with the leaves.

Speaking of pains in one place which are dreaded by dog drivers, I was camping later that winter with Johnny Beads at the Qu'Appelle River en route to Fort Pelly, and after we had made our camp he took his blanket and axe and started for the ice. I watched him with interest as he started chopping at the snow and last struck the water which was as usual, rose to the top. He then stripped off his mouse skin pants and moccasins and held his leg in the ice water right up to his middle for over five minutes. Then, wrapping his blanket round him, he came tearing up, through the snow, barefooted, to camp. "What have you been doing Johnny?" I asked. "Oh," he replied, "I had a pain in my leg and that is the best cure!"

Bush Fires In Ontario.

Toronto—Although bush fires are blazing in dozens of places in Northern Ontario on both sides of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway east and west of Cochrane, no great conflagration has developed as yet, due to the fact that there has been no wind to speak of. Reports from the north agree that if a stiff wind springs up before rain comes to extinguish the flames, the section of the settled part of the north country will be free from the menace of fire out of control.

Tolerance Is Secret of British Success, Rabbi Hertz Says.

Vancouver—Speaking before the Canadian Club here, Very Rev. Joseph H. Hertz, chief rabbi of the United Hebrew Congregations of the British Empire, declared that the latitude and longitude of spirit in British institutions is the secret of Britain's imperial success. By latitude, Dr. Hertz explained, he meant the broad spirit of tolerance that obtained throughout the empire in general and in Canada in particular; by longitude, the habit of taking an all-round view of things.

"The British Empire," declared Dr. Hertz, "is not built up machine guns."

The effect of the British system upon the races that make up the empire, he illustrated by the loyalty of the Jewish race, which sent 50,000 to fight for her in the late war.

Black Rust Menace

Damage to Crops Is Feared By Government Officials.

Winnipeg—Reports that have been reaching here from different parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan that black rust had been detected on the growing wheat are now substantiated by Government officials, says a Winnipeg newspaper. The newspaper says several samples received from a number of points in the west have proved conclusively that the infection is widespread.

Damage to the crops depends on the weather during the next week or two, but the fact that black rust has made its appearance at this early date is considered serious, but not alarming, the paper continues.

Patterson called the meeting to order at 1:30 p.m. and a large number of farmers, progressive farmers from the surrounding districts as well as a number of prominent citizens from the Crows Nest Pass towns. After considerable discussion regarding the possibility of placing a farm candidate in the field to contest the Rocky Mountain constituency against the present candidate, it was decided by motion of Mr. Morrison, Labor and Liberal respectively, it was decided by motion of Mr. Head, Mr. Walmsley and J. Nevertheless, I am so pleased that the Stewart government desires an honest enforcement of all laws, not excepting the liquor law, and if elected I will be elected as a Stewart government supporter."
